Obituary:

Cindy Ann Yandre Mitchell, 57, passed away peacefully on July 28, 2014 at Brookside Care Center after a long hard fought battle against Multiple Systems Atrophy.

Born August 27, 1956 in Kenosha, she was the youngest child of Charles E. and Grace I. (Robinson) Yandre. Cindy attended local schools and graduated from Reuther High School in 1974. She obtained her CNA certification from Gateway Technical College and for a short time worked at Brookside Care Center before moving to Phoenix, AZ.

She married Lawrence Mitchell and together they had a daughter, Katie Yandre Mitchell. Later they divorced and Cindy moved to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho where she opened a small coffee shop named Choo-Chew's.

Eventually, she returned to Wisconsin and attended culinary school at Milwaukee Area Technical College from which she graduated with honors. She worked at Kenosha Hospital for ten years before being stricken by her debilitating disease.

Cindy loved the outdoors and especially enjoyed camping and traveling. She had a soft spot in her heart for pets, dogs in particular, and she spoiled every one she had. Cooking was her passion and it gave her great satisfaction. Cindy's incredible smile, huge blue eyes and infectious laugh will be missed by all who knew and loved her.

I am so sorry to hear of Cindy's passing. She had been on my mind alot this past week. I loved her spontaneity and her big heart. She was always a good friend to me even though we lost touch the last few years. Cindy would have given the shirt off her back to anyone who needed it. She was a compassionate soul. She is in God's loving arms now.

I can't even begin to describe what Cindy has meant to me. Although I only knew her the last five months of her life, I feel like we have been friends for a lifetime. For someone who was unable to communicate verbally during our time together, she sure spoke to me in ways that I will always treasure. My deepest condolences go out to the entire family -- especially to Katie. I know how hard it is to lose your mom. Please remember, you take her with you wherever you go.
